

Medicines for Children

Practical and reliable information about giving medicines to your child

Information leaflets and videos available online - written and reviewed by doctors and pharmacists with consultation from parents/carers and young people

www.medicinesforchildren.org.uk

“When and how do I give my child their medicine?”

“What if I forget to give it or give too much?”

“Are there any side-effects?”

- Information leaflets and videos offering practical advice about how to give medicines to your child.
- Free to access online any time of the day or night.
- They cover many of the medicines that are prescribed to children by a pharmacist, doctor or nurse.
- The information is written by children’s doctors and pharmacists, and is checked by parents and carers.
- The website is accredited by NHS England’s Information Standard.

www.medicinesforchildren.org.uk

Practical and reliable advice about giving medicine to your child