

Medicines for Children

information for parents and carers

Would you like practical and reliable information about giving medicine to your child at home?

When and how do I give my child their medicine?

Information you can trust

Free leaflets give practical advice about how to give medicines to children.

They cover many of the medicines that are prescribed or recommended to children by a pharmacist, doctor or nurse.

The leaflets are written by children's doctors and pharmacists, and checked by parents like you.

What if I forget to give the medicine or give it twice?

Available online

Go to our website to see if a leaflet on your child's medicine is available. If you do not have website access, talk to your pharmacist.

Visit our web page using the QR Code Reader on your smartphone

Are there any possible side-effects?

Give us some feedback

If you would like us to produce a leaflet about your child's medicine, or if you have any suggestions for how we can improve, please contact us through the website.

www.medicinesforchildren.org.uk
Or do a web search for "medicines for children"